

MYSTERY IN MOVE OF BRITISH TROOPS

London Puzzled by Order Diverting Eight Battalions From German Plebiscites

BALTIC STATES DEFY REDS

By the Associated Press.
London, Jan. 22.—Some of the newspapers give great prominence to the cancellation of the original orders sending British troops into the plebiscite areas in Silesia, East Prussia and Schleswig.

Eleven battalions and a brigade of artillery were scheduled for plebiscite duty, but it was officially announced yesterday, without a reason being given, that it was necessary to modify the arrangement. Under the new plan only one battalion will go to Schleswig, one to Danzig and one to Allenstein. Speculation is rife as to the destination of other battalions.

The Daily Mail, which describes the affair as a "mystery," says advance parties of eleven battalions already have arrived at their destinations and have been ordered to return immediately.

It refers to the Paris suggestion that troops be sent to protect Georgia and Azerbaijan against the Bolsheviks and the report that French troops will be substituted for the British units in the plebiscite areas. It adds that, whatever the reason, the decision was made at the recent conference of the Allies in Paris and is not an isolated British arrangement.

The Daily Herald ascribes the move to the "British war party's determination to involve the country in new military commitments."

Helsinki, Jan. 22.—(By A. P.)—The net result of the conference of representatives of Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Poland, which closed last night, is the appointment of a commission to work out a basis for a defensive alliance against soviet Russia. The question of peace with the Bolsheviks, it is said, was ignored absolutely.

Apparently the differences between Lithuania and Poland are so irreconcilable that Lithuania will not consent to be a party to any alliance including Poland. It is feared Lithuania at the outset of the conference proposed an alliance of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania against Poland. The Estonians replied they were not empowered to consider such a proposal, and the Lithuanians rejected it outright. After that Lithuania participated in the conference only as an observer.

According to the Latvian and Polish delegates, Lithuania is on the point of linking with Germany, as well as concluding an armistice with soviet Russia.

MILLERAND WOULD KEEP ALLIES UNITED

French Premier Says "Ties Which Saved World" Must Be Maintained

TRIBUTE TO CLEMENCEAU

By the Associated Press.
Paris, Jan. 22.—Maintenance of "the alliances that have saved the world" will be one of the chief aims of the new cabinet in France, Premier Millerand declared in his ministerial declaration of policy today.

The declaration began with a graceful reference to M. Clemenceau, the retiring premier. M. Millerand pointed out that he had been called "to the formidable honor of succeeding a ministry presided over by a great patriot who, in the eyes of the world, is the incarnation of victory. The declaration continued:

Will Fulfill Treaty
"The execution of all the clauses of the treaty of Versailles will be law to us. We shall pursue it without violence or feebleness—with unshakable firmness. It includes the close and cordial maintenance of the alliances which have saved the world."

"Without our allies, those of the first as of the last hour, what trial would not have been in store for us? What would have been the fate of our allies if France had not served four long years as the cover to civilization?"

The speaker read the declaration in the Chamber of Deputies to a crowded house. The statement was coolly received, and Leon Daudet, editor of L'Action Francaise demanded the right to interpellate.

DUBLIN ASSISTANT POLICE HEAD SLAIN
Another Constable Shot and Badly Injured at Thurles. No Arrest Made
By the Associated Press
Dublin, Jan. 22.—Assistant Commissioner of Police Redmond was shot and instantly killed last evening in Harcourt street, one of Dublin's main thoroughfares.

When Mr. Redmond was assailed he endeavored to draw his own pistol, but was unable to do so before he was shot down. He was found gripping his pistol, which was in his pocket.
Mr. Redmond recently was brought to Dublin from Belfast, where he had been a successful constabulary officer, to assist in co-ordinating the Dublin police and secure increased efficiency in the detective department, in view of the murder of several policemen, for which no arrests have been made.

Thurles, Jan. 22.—(By A. P.)—Another constable was shot and badly wounded Tuesday night while returning to his home here. No arrests were made.
London, Jan. 22.—(By A. P.)—The

Daily Mail's correspondent, who is accompanying the English parliamentary labor delegation, in a dispatch to his paper, writes:
"As he walked through the streets, Arthur Henderson, chairman of the delegation, said the scene recalled the ravaged villages of France during the war. The populace commented volubly in their excitement upon 'the great blessing we get from England's government.'"
"Constables, when asked their version of the affair, spoke with equal excitement and anger, and said they had been without sleep since Friday, owing to an attack on a police station three miles away."
"The district has been seething with hostilities against the constabulary since the Sinn Fein started 'their limit of what flesh and blood can stand,' said one constable. 'No wonder some of our chaps were angry last night.'"

What Happens in the Dark?

HIGH PRICES paid by the consumer for vegetables, for meats, for fruits, for garments of cotton or wool, are disproportionate to the amounts received by the producer on the farm.

Between the time the farmer sells his produce and the time the city consumer buys it from grocer, butcher or huckster, some one, somewhere, adds a charge enormously above the original selling price.

The city consumer, knowing little of the intricate system by which food journeys from farm to table, shrieks that the farmer is a profiteer, and the farmer has been powerless to refute that accusation.

Meantime the middlemen—the speculators, the wholesalers, the jobbers, the retailers—working in the dark, are permitted to continue the disproportionate charges at the expense of both farmer and consumer.

IF ONLY the Nation's farmers could compel efficient, economical marketing of their meat animals, their grains, their vegetables, their fruits, their wool, their cotton, consumers as well as producers would profit in more equitable prices.
